

DIGBETH TODAY

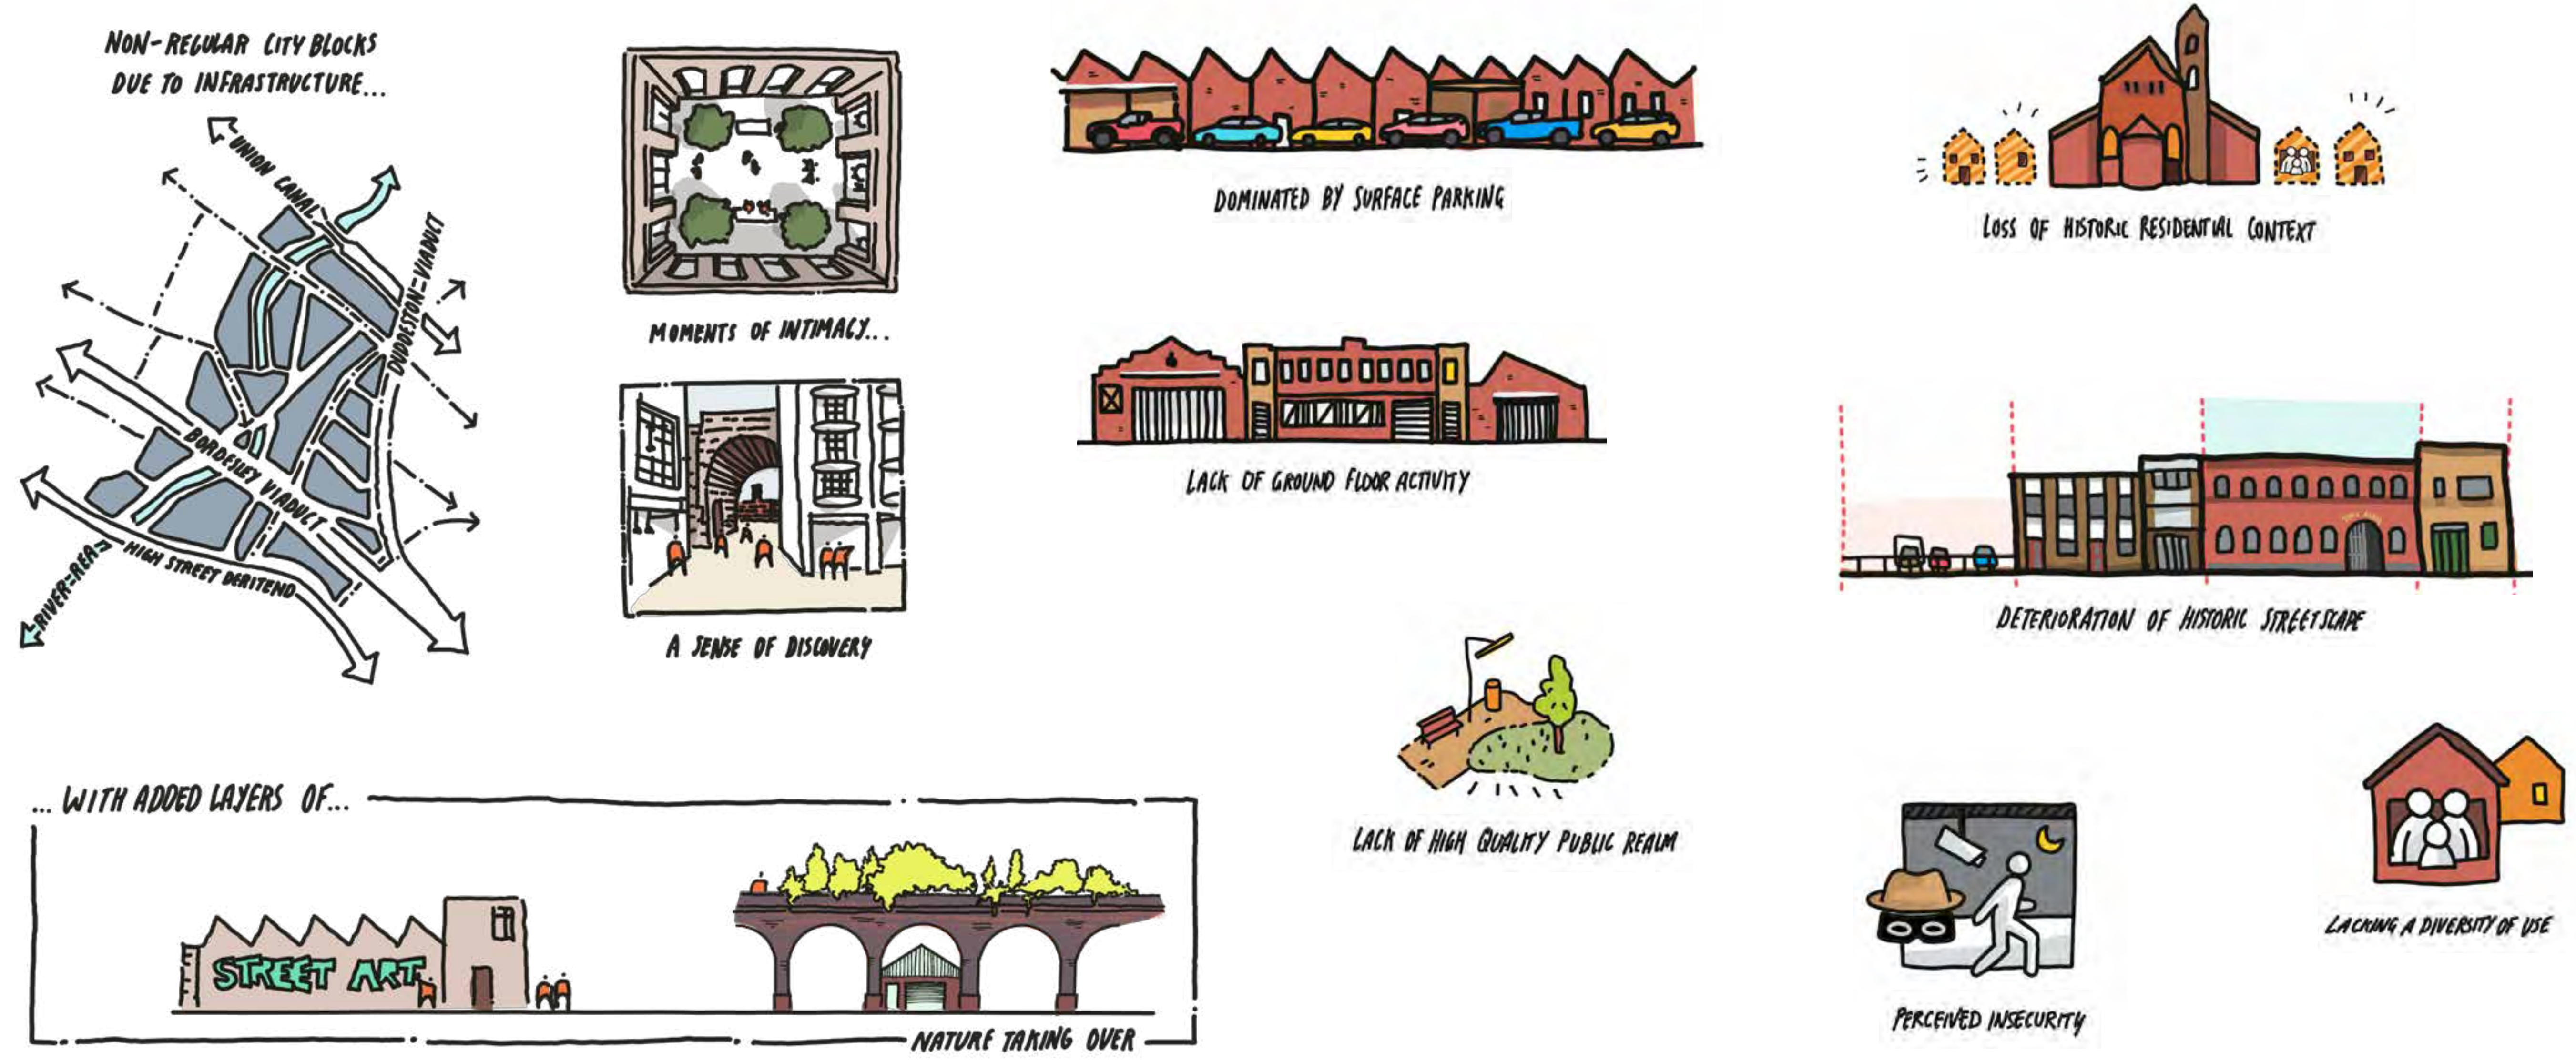

CELEBRATING DIGBETH'S RICH HERITAGE

Eighteen months ago Oval commissioned Turley Heritage to undertake a detailed study of the area's built environment. This included engaging with Birmingham City Council's conservation team as well as local artists and landscape architects who know and understand the area.

Through these conversations and studies we have created a detailed record of the buildings in Digbeth. This has helped us in the design process. Where appropriate, Oval will carefully refurbish and breathe new life into derelict or vacant buildings. Where new buildings are proposed, our aim is that they will complement and respond to that which is being retained.
